Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

3. Claims 1-3 and 6-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wakita et al (US '6,299,682), and further in view of Gross et al (US 6,547,849).

Wakita et al disclose a casting apparatus comprising a die, a plate shape heater disposed horizontally, a gas supplying section, and an additional heater located in the bottom (figures).

Wakita et al fail to teach a lid with lid moving means to control an opening amount.

Art Unit: 1725

However, Gross et al disclose a lid (32) disposed between the heater and the molten metal. The lid also comprise a lid opening means and capable of controlling the level of flow of inert gas. Gross et al disclose a lid for the purpose of sealing the molten metal.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time applicant's invention was made to provide a lid in the die of Wakita et al, in order to seal the molten metal.

4. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wakita et al (US '682) in view of Gross et al (US '849) as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Baum (US 4,140,170).

Gross et al disclose the claimed invention above and wherein in molten metal is silicon (abstract), but fail to teach the bottom surface of the lid is coated with silicide.

However, Baum discloses a mold coated with silicide (col. 9, lines 11-12) for oxidation resistance.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time applicant's invention was made to provide a coating of silicide as taught by Baum, on Gross et al's lid in order to prevent oxidation.
